

Main data table with columns for organization name, address, and various numerical indicators. The table is organized into multiple sections, each containing a list of entries with their respective details.